Contributing to Open-Source

Software Freedom Day 2020

@soniasinglas

Speaker

Sonia Singla 👩🏻‍💻

- Outreachy Intern at Mozilla
- CNCF Intern with Thanos
- Open-Source contributor at Mozilla and CNCF

@soniasinglas

What is Open-Source?

1. Code is publicly available

What is Open-Source?

1. Code is publicly available
2. Freedom to Use, Copy, Study, Change, and Improve it

What is Open-Source?

1. Code is publicly available
2. Freedom to Use, Copy, Study, Change, and Improve it
3. Built Collaboratively, Work Together, Healthy Community

What is Open-Source?

1. Code is publicly available
2. Freedom to Use, Copy, Study, Change, and Improve it
3. Built Collaboratively, Work Together, Healthy Community
4. Actively maintained and Open to Contribution

Sounds great, but 😭

Sounds great, but 😭

1. I am not a good enough programmer to contribute to Open Source

Sounds great, but 😭

1. I am not a good enough programmer to contribute to Open Source
2. I don’t know the project well enough to contribute

Sounds great, but 😭

1. I am not a good enough programmer to contribute to Open Source
2. I don’t know the project well enough to contribute
3. I don’t write code so I have nothing to contribute

Sounds great, but 😭

1. I am not a good enough programmer to contribute to Open Source
2. I don’t know the project well enough to contribute
3. I don’t write code so I have nothing to contribute
4. Contributing to Open Source is hard

Why contribute to Open Source?

1. Grow your career and Improve Existing skills

Why contribute to Open Source?

1. Grow your career and Improve Existing skills
2. Find Mentors, guide and teach others

Why contribute to Open Source?

1. Grow your career and Improve Existing skills
2. Find Mentors, guide and teach others
3. Learn people’s skills

Why contribute to Open Source?

1. Grow your career and Improve Existing skills
2. Find Mentors, guide and teach others
3. Learn people’s skills
4. Meet people with similar interest

Why contribute to Open Source?

1. Grow your career and Improve Existing skills
2. Find Mentors, guide and teach others
3. Learn people’s skills
4. Meet people with similar interest
5. Learn to work remotely with cross culture team

Why contribute to Open Source?

1. Grow your career and Improve Existing skills
2. Find Mentors, guide and teach others
3. Learn people’s skills
4. Meet people with similar interest
5. Learn to work remotely with cross culture team
6. Giving back to Community

What it means to Contribute?

How to find a project to contribute to?

How to find a project to Contribute to?

1. GitHub Explore
2. Open Source Friday
3. First Timers Only
4. CodeTriage
5. 24 Pull Requests
6. Up For Grabs
7. Contributor-ninja
8. First Contributions
9. SourceSort

Introduce yourself to New Project?

How to submit your contribution?

1. Communicate effectively

How to submit your contribution?

1. Communicate effectively
2. Gathering Context

How to submit your contribution?

1. Communicate effectively
2. Gathering Context
3. Opening an issue

How to submit your contribution?

1. Communicate effectively
2. Gathering Context
3. Opening an issue
4. Opening a Pull Request

Congratulations, you did it 😻

Have Fun, Stay Healthy

Questions??

GitHub: soniasingla

Twitter: soniasinglas

Email: soniasingla.1812@gmail.com

Thank You 🤗

@soniasinglas